Fire Drill Works Well at Grammar School-Local People Attend Conference-Philip Desjardines Injured in Wagon Accident,

A fire drill has been established at the Riverside grammar school, and was tried Friday morning, the children being aware that they were to leave the building. Wednesday the fire alarm of three strokes on the gong took the school by surprise, and the children left the building in fairly good order. Among the pupils is a little lame boy, and it is the duty of Alex Desjardins to go to his room and carry him out of the building. When the test came on Wednesday, the lad did not lose his head, but ran to the room and carried the child out in short order.
